Counting The People.

SOME OF THE INQUIRIES TO BE MADE AT THE CENSUS ENQUIRIES IN JUNE.

The Eleventh Census of the United States will be taken during the month of June. The census enumerators will begin their work Monday, June 2, and will visit every house and ask questions concerning every person and every family in the United States. The questions that will be asked call for the name of every person residing in the United States on the first day of June, with their sex and age, and white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octroon, or otherwise, Japanese, or Indian. Inquiry will be made also of every person as to whether they are single, married, widowed, or divorced, and, if married, whether married during the census year. The place of birth of each person, and the place of birth of the father and mother of each person, will also be called for, as a statement as to the profession, occupation followed, and the number of persons unemployed during the census year. For all persons ten years of age or over, return must be made by the enumerator as to the number able to read and write, and also the number who can speak English. For those who can not speak English, the particular language or dialect spoken by them will be noted. For children of school age, also the number of months they attended school will be noted by the census enumerators. In the case of mothers an inquiry will be made as to the number of children they have had, and the number of these children living at the present time. This inquiry is to be made of all women who are or have been married, including all who are widows or divorcees. Foreign-born males of adult age, at least twenty years of age or over, will be asked as to the number of years they have been in the United States, and whether they are naturalized or have taken out their family, and whether their home is owned or hired, if owned, whether the home is free from mortgage incumbrance. If the head of the family is a farmer, similar inquiries will be made concerning the ownership of the farm. In addition to these inquiries, all of which are made on the population schedule, the law under which the census is taken makes provision for special inquiries concerning such of the population as are mentally or physically defective in any respect, that is, insane, feeble minded, deaf, blind, crippled, or who may be temporarily disabled by sickness, disease, or accident at the time of the census.

Certain special inquiries will also be made concerning inmates of prisons and reformatory institutions and of charitable and benevolent institutions. Besides this, a statement will be called for concerning all persons who have died during the census year, giving their name, age, sex, occupation, and cause of death. The official count of the people comes but once in ten years, and every family in every person should consider it to be their duty to answer the questions of the census enumerators willingly and promptly, so that definite and accurate information may be gained concerning the 65,000,000 people living within the bounds of this great country.

Veterans of the Civil War.

As a part of the census of the people to be taken during the month of June special provision has been made by Congress for ascertaining the names of surviving soldiers, sailors, and marines who were mustered into the service of the United States during the war of the rebellion, and of the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines who have died. In connection with this special census of veterans the organization in which they served, the term of service in each case, and present residence will be taken by the census enumerators. In the case of widow, information regarding the service of their deceased husband is also required.

The importance of accurate statements concerning the military record of each participant in the late war should not be underestimated. It should be the duty, moreover, of every veteran soldier or sailor to see that the enumerator is placed in possession of the necessary information concerning his own service. It should not be at home when the enumerator calls, he should leave a proper memorandum in the hands of his wife or other member of his household, so that the work of the census may not be delayed, and that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of the statements concerning his service, which may be given to the census enumerator. That there may be no question as to the points to be covered by this memorandum, it may be well to state that the special inquiries to be made concerning veterans of the civil war, will include the name, the company, and the regiment or vessel in which they served, their late rank, the dates of enrollment and discharge, the length of service in years, months, and days, and their present post-office address. Where a soldier or sailor is enlisted or served in more than one organization or vessel, he should be very careful to give the term of service in each instance, and to cover each enlistment.

In giving the organization care should be taken to distinguish the arm of the service, as infantry, cavalry, artillery, etc., and if a person served under an assumed name, his true name should be made to cover both the name under which he served and the true name by which he is now known.

Veterans of the war generally will recognize and appreciate the value of this special census to them, and they should aid the census enumerators in getting true statements in every way possible. Without their co-operation correct results can not be reached. This personal appeal is made to them, therefore, in the hope that their attention may be specially directed to the importance of this work and the necessary information may be promptly supplied to the census enumerator when he calls some time during the month of June.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be just as good as the Ivory. They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. It is sold everywhere.
